Building and Achieving a Common Vision for Young Children

This session will provide tools to enable participants to achieve positive change in the systems of services for children 0 to 5. Presenters will offer examples of how other states have addressed issues affecting infants, toddlers and preschoolers through comprehensive systems change, communication opportunities and advocacy efforts and apply these experiences to the California landscape.

Speakers and panelists will give examples from California programs to illustrate multiple pathways that can reach the vision of a coordinated, well-funded system of high-quality, prenatal to five services that foster success in school and life. Topics include building relationships and coalitions; prioritizing and targeting a policy agenda; using data and evaluation results effectively to make a case for change; and engaging new stakeholders who can become champions for change. Participants will leave the session with a framework for action planning for their future systems development work.

First 5 county commissions are encouraged to bring teams including community partners.
