Operates as a public-private partnership between the County of Los Angeles and the Performing Arts Center of Los Angeles County. It is one of the three largest performing arts centers in the nation, with more than 1.3 million visitors annually. The Music Center is comprised of four venues – Walt Disney Concert Hall, the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, Ahmanson Theater and Mark Taper Forum – as well as outdoor theaters, plazas, and gardens. Visitors can experience the Music Center day or night by taking a variety of tours offered throughout the week, dining in one of the five Patina Group restaurants or attending a performance by any of the four internationally acclaimed resident companies: The Los Angeles Philharmonic, Center Theater Group, LA Opera and the Los Angeles Master Chorale. Additionally, the Music Center offers the largest presentation of dance in Los Angeles, a speaker series, free programming for children and families throughout the year and free or low-cost active arts programs which engage people from diverse backgrounds and experiences and encourages them to sing, dance, play music and tell stories together just for the sheer enjoyment and love of it.

An independent special district serving the water pollution control and solid waste management needs of more than half the people in Los Angeles County. The agency is made up of 26 separate districts, working cooperatively under one administrative staff headquartered near Whittier. The policy body for the Sanitation Districts consists of the mayors of the 78 cities on the system as well as the chair of the county Board of Supervisors.

The agency's eleven water pollution control plants (sewage treatment plants) treat approximately 520 million gallons a day, 190 of which are available for reuse in the dry Southern California climate. Four sanitary landfills handle nearly 17,600 tons a day of trash (approximately half the countywide disposal capacity). The agency also operates three recycle centers, a refuse-to-energy facility, gas-to-energy facilities, and a refuse transfer station.
