COUNTY DEBUTS NEW SOLAR MAPPING PROGRAM

Homeowners and businesses will be able to go online to determine if their properties are suitable for solar power

- WHO: Los Angeles County officials, including Supervisors Mark Ridley-Thomas and Zev Yaroslavsky
- WHAT: Will demonstrate the County's new online solar mapping website, which will allow homeowners and businesses to go online to determine if their properties are suitable for solar power
- WHEN: Monday, April 20, 10 a.m.
- WHERE: Room 864, Kenneth Hahn Hall of Administration 500 W. Temple St., Los Angeles
- WHY: Solar power reduces greenhouse gas emissions and energy costs

The new website will go live on Monday and will be featured Wednesday – Earth Day – at the National Conversation on Climate Action all-day conference in Los Angeles, which is part of a national effort to fight global warming.
