Program Description

Develop career pathway programs for all youth, including diversionary and foster youth, that includes community involvement and paid work experience in areas such as social work, civic engagement, arts and culture, and science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) fields, including paid internships, fellowships and apprenticeships as well as financial literacy training.

Fund and expand after school programs and summer programs, including those that focus on academics/tutoring (such as financial literacy programs), rites of passage, youth development, arts and culture, and mentoring, and are led by community groups as well as school community coalitions. Programs should include training local and emerging youth artists in the community to create culturally relevant artwork for the community run by arts and culture organizations.

Invest in housing programs and interventions that are tailored for at-risk youth and system-impacted transition-age youth. Housing for youth should be informed by individuals with lived experience with the foster care and/or juvenile justice systems, and also implemented by providers with lived experience. Funds should not be used to fund youth housing interventions that expand the surveillance of families, and supportive services should be provided but not required in order to access youth housing programs Supportive Services; counseling and support and restorative justice circles for family members Parenting classes; Pretrial family support (including management of child support; help families better understand legal process and legalese to interpret meaning; and support to people returning home and their family members understand terms of community supervision in order to adhere to court and community supervision requirements.

Expand and create new programs, services & drop-in centers including: Reentry services, violence prevention/Domestic violence & end human trafficking, work force development, legal services, Transitional housing, Mental health services, Food distribution, gender affirming clothing, Immigration services, English as a Second Language (ESL) classes, Technology training & access, HIV Prevention services & COVID-19 prevention/education.

Reentry Programming for Women seeks to serve the unique needs of women involved in the criminal justice system. Programming will 1) Promote healthy connections to children, family, significant others, and the community, 2) Comprehensively address substance abuse, trauma, and mental illness, and 3) Provide women with opportunities to achieve self-sufficiency, and 4) Reduce recidivism. The program will hire Community Health Workers (CHWs) to provide case management, and will incorporate housing and legal services to ensure safety and healing for the clients.

Grants to justice-focused community-based organizations (CBOs) to support strategic planning and assessment of post-pandemic programmatic operations, as well as strengthening fiscal and development and fundraising capacity.
