

MOBILITY JUSTICE SERIES

FEATURING A SCREENING OF BIKING WHILE BLACK: CONTINUING TO RIDE THROUGH DECRIMINALIZATION, DISENFRANCHISEMENT, AND GENTRIFICATION

ARDI is excited to launch our Mobility Justice Series. We invite you to join these events which are designed to create space for dialogue, collaboration, and the elevation of community voice relevant to advancing mobility justice. Mobility justice aims to ensure everyone can move freely and safely, access essential services, goods, information, and locations by minimizing barriers due to race, ability, or other factors.

This event will feature a screening of Yolanda Davis-Overstreet's documentary, Biking While Black: Continuing to Ride through Decriminalization, Disenfranchisement, and Gentrification.

Please join us for refreshments and a data exhibit before we jump into the screening of the documentary, followed by a panel discussion and community listening session where we will have a dialogue around what is needed to advance mobility justice in our communities.
